5-STAR AIRLINE

ANA is Japan's largest 5-Star airline, awarded Skytrax's highest accolade for the ninth consecutive year. Carrying over 48 million passengers in FY2019 and with a fleet of 270 aircraft, ANA also has joint venture partnerships with United Airlines, Lufthansa, Swiss International Air Lines and Austrian Airlines.

NETWORK EXPANSION

ANA connects travellers from Europe (London, Paris, Frankfurt, Munich, Dusseldorf, Brussels and Vienna) to Tokyo and beyond to over 49 destinations across Japan.* ANA is also expanding its international network by adding flights to Istanbul, Milan, Moscow, and Stockholm from Tokyo Haneda Airport.

THE Suite

NEW LUXURY CABINS

ANA have collaborated with famed Japanese architect Kengo Kuma and British designers Acumen to launch new luxury First Class and Business Class cabins, complete with private door, large 4K monitor and specially crafted dining facilities. Available on London - Haneda (daily) and selected North American routes.*

THE Room

BUSINESS STAGGERED

Business Class across Paris, Frankfurt, Munich, Dusseldorf, Brussels and Vienna is thoughtfully designed for premium comfort. Staggered seats with direct aisle access provide 50% more space and recline fully into a horizontal bed. ANA's Premium Economy passengers can also access select Business Class lounges at Tokyo, London, Paris, Brussels and Vienna airports.

BUSINESS CLASS

IN-FLIGHT SERVICES

Food and drinks on international (departing from Japan) and domestic flights have been prepared by THE CONNOISSEURS — famous Michelin Starred chefs, ANA Chefs, internationally renowned culinary experts and beverage specialists. First and Business Class passengers also receive new amenity kits from Globe-Trotter, featuring a selection of Japanese cosmetics.

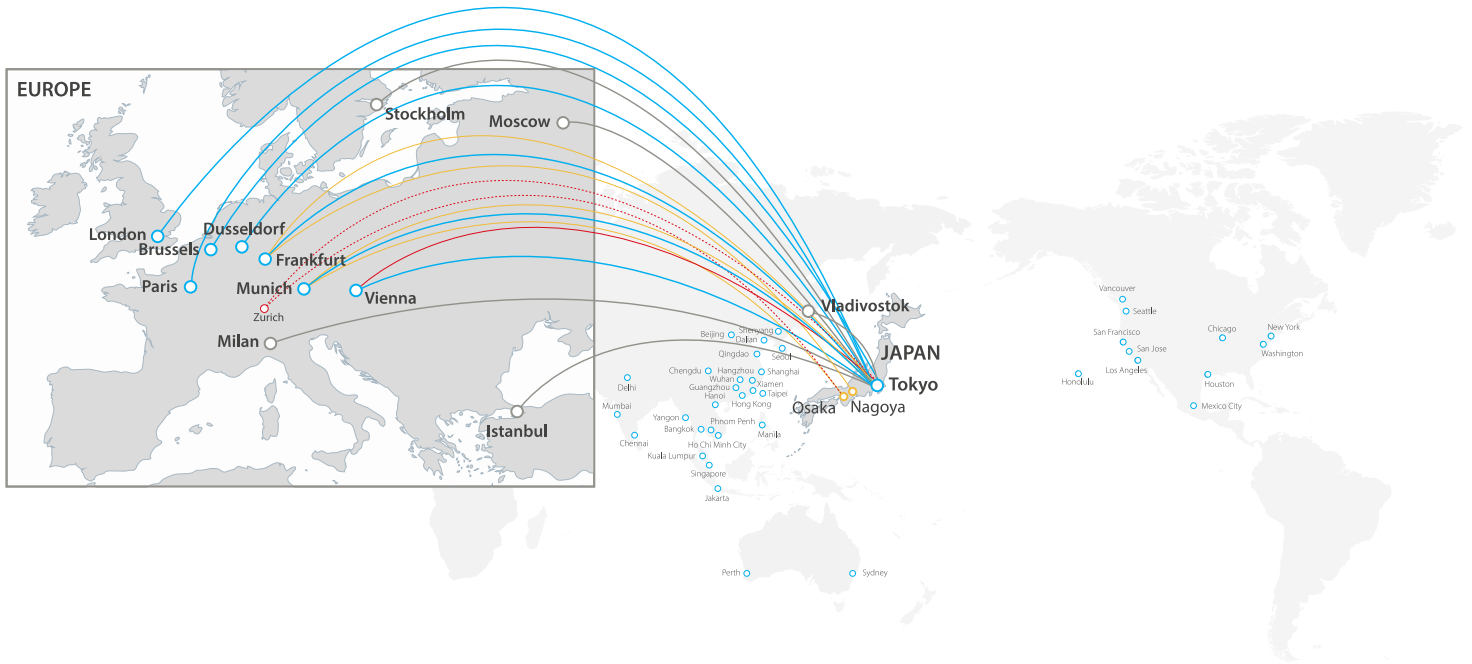

ANA FUTURE PROMISE

The ANA Group has named the period up to 2030 as the 'Decade of Action' and is committed to achieve net zero emissions for aircraft operations by 2050. ANA has recently announced a number of initiatives to reduce CO2 emissions.
